General information on the EU Hydrogen Week 2024

Dates: From Monday 18 to Friday 22 November 2024 – all available information on the programme will be uploaded constantly on the event dedicated website www.euhydrogenweek.eu.

Address: Brussels Expo, Pl. de Belgique 1, 1020 Bruxelles- For practical information on the venue and how to get there, please click here.

About the event

The hydrogen economy will redraw the energy map. There is absolutely no doubt that hydrogen will have a key role in the energy transition, especially to harvest the fast-growing amount of renewable energy. Therefore, in the global race to reach the Paris Agreement targets, hydrogen technologies are increasingly at the centre of attention and are now considered crucial and lucrative opportunities. Hydrogen's moment is here and now!

That's why more and more companies and investors are prioritising hydrogen. Yet, every business decision carries a risk and, to mitigate them, connections and knowledge-sharing are key. This event is a melting pot of powerful and influential leaders, policy makers, researchers, and end users each looking for the next big thing. Companies will find customers, investors and partners in the exhibition area as well as have be able to attend thought-provoking conferences.

Social Media

On all social media platforms, the event will use the hashtag #EUH2Week to encourage participation from attendees and followers. You can view all the posts containing #EUH2Week on the social media network you are using by clicking the hashtag from one of the tweets, posts, or images. Subject: EU Hydrogen Week 2024 – Join one of the biggest hydrogen annual events

Dear XXX,

We are excited to announce that we will Platinum/Gold/Silver/Bronze sponsor of the European Hydrogen Week on 18-22 November 2024 in Brussels! Based on the common cooperation among the European Commission, Hydrogen Europe, and the Clean Hydrogen Partnership, the week is one of the biggest annual events dedicated to hydrogen with a series of great activities all around the most abundant element in the universe.

During the 5 days, thought-provoking discussions with some of the most prominent stakeholders in the hydrogen sector will take place, covering the most pressing topics facing this new industry: the need for both urgency and pragmatism in creating the regulatory framework, the unique challenges different sectors face to decarbonize and how hydrogen can help, and how to remain a leader in an industry that has caught the attention of the rest of the world.

Next to the different conference streams, an exhibition will also take place. Based on the success of the past editions, this year the expo floor is expanded into two halls for a total of over 8000 sqm, ready to welcome more than 8000 attendees.

We'll be there at booth #XXX, come and visit us!

Interested in topic? Our colleague Name, title will be discussing it with other experts in the session "Session title" taking place on DD.MM.YYYY at HH:MM CET.
